Announcements | Annonces

Call for Abstracts: Institute of Medical Ethics 4th Summer Conference Summer 2017
15-16 June 2017, Liverpool, England

- The Institute of Medical Ethics invites abstracts for its forthcoming conference in Liverpool 15th and 16th June 2017. The conference is a two-day event, designed to give opportunities for academics, clinicians and students involved in biomedical ethics research and the medical humanities to present their current work.
- The conference organisers welcome submissions from a range of disciplines relevant to bioethics, including medical ethics, medicine, healthcare, philosophy, social sciences, law, public policy and the medical humanities. In addition to submissions from established academics, early career researchers and healthcare professionals, we also encourage submissions from postgraduates and students who are intercalating in medical ethics or the medical humanities.

Deadline for submissions: January 31, 2017 (midnight).
